

Office of the President

January 28, 2025

Daemen University
Students, Faculty, and Staff

Dear Daemen Community,

As you know, the new administration in Washington has been issuing many mandates and executive orders that affect higher education. Current executive orders affect federal support of faculty research and institutional programs as well as offices and programs devoted to diversity. These orders also potentially affect members of our campus community. Fortunately, student financial aid is exempt from the current pauses